Jerry Colangelo

Phoenix Mercury Chairman and CEO

Having established himself as one of the premier franchise builders in the sports world, it seemed only logical that Jerry Colangelo play an integral role in bringing a WNBA team to Phoenix. He has served as a founding committee member and CEO of the Mercury franchise since it was named one of the original eight teams in 1997, and the organization has thrived under his guidance. Colangelo's impact was felt immediately when he named women's basketball icon Cheryl Miller as the team's first head coach and general manager.

In its four years of existence, the Mercury has proven itself as one of the most popular and successful teams in the WNBA. The Mercury led the league in attendance during the initial season and has ranked in the top five in attendance for four consecutive years. The team has earned playoff berths in three of its four seasons, and in 1998 the Mercury advanced to the WNBA Finals where they lost a heartbreaking three-game series to the eventual champion Houston Comets.

In addition to his success with the Mercury, Colangelo will enter his 36th season in the NBA and 34th season with the Phoenix Suns this fall. He has been with the Suns since their existence.

NBA Franchise Rankings

Under Colangelo's guidance, the Suns have built a reputation as one of the most successful and admired franchises in all of sports. Winner of an unprecedented four NBA Executive of the Year awards (1993, '89, '81, '76), Colangelo directed the Suns to seven consecutive 50-plus win seasons from 1988 to 1995, including a franchise-best 62 wins in 1992-93. The club advanced to the Western Conference Finals three of those seven seasons, earning a trip to the NBA Finals in 1993.

In 1997, Colangelo was ranked as the 21st most powerful person in sports by The Sporting News, and has been named most influential businessperson in the Valley of the Sun for the last five years by The Phoenix Business Journal. As further testimony of the Suns and Colangelo's success, Financial World Magazine in 1997 ranked the Suns as the ninth most valuable team in all of sports and the second most valuable professional basketball franchise, behind the New York Knicks.

After serving as general manager of the Suns from 1968 to 1987, Colangelo led a group of investors to purchase the franchise, and he has served as the team's CEO ever since. Colangelo currently serves on the NBA's Board of Governors, the NBA Finance Committee and the league's Long Range Planning Committee. He was chairman of the Expansion Committee that welcomed Vancouver and Toronto into the NBA and also served as chairman of the Competition and Rules Committee for four years.

In addition to his front office duties, Colangelo has twice stepped in to coach the Suns. He took over for Johnny Kerr on January 2, 1970 and guided the club to a 24-20 mark and its first playoff appearance. He also replaced Butch van Breda Kolff early in the 1972-73 season and compiled a 35-40 mark. Overall, he owns a 59-60 record as an NBA coach.

America West Arena

After spearheading efforts to build a new downtown sports arena, Colangelo's vision became a shining reality in June 1992. The 19,023-seat America West Arena is a public-private partnership with the City of Phoenix and became the centerpiece for a downtown revitalization process that has made Phoenix one of the most admired cities in America. The arena was designed under his direction and it is managed under his guidance. The arena has played host to the a wide variety of concerts, family shows and sporting events, including the 1995 NBA All-Star Game and the 2000 WNBA All-Star Game.

A "Major League" City

In addition to his leadership of the Mercury, Suns and America West Arena, Colangelo became the guiding force for an investment group that landed the Arizona Diamondbacks of Major League Baseball in March 1995.

The official groundbreaking for Bank One Ballpark followed in November 1995. The 48,500-seat, retractable roof stadium is held in a public-private partnership with Maricopa County. Colangelo now serves as the managing general partner of the team and serves on both the MLB Legislative Committee and Equal Opportunity Committee. The Diamondbacks ranked second in the National League and third in Major League Baseball in attendance during the team's first year (1998), drawing an average of 44,480 per home game.

In The Community

Colangelo has distinguished himself as one of the Valley's most active community leaders. He is on the Board of Directors of the Phoenix Art Museum, Greater Phoenix Economic Council, Phoenix Community Alliance and Phoenix Suns Charities. He serves as vice president of the Phoenix Downtown Partnership and is chairman of the Southwest Leadership Foundation. He is a lifetime member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, an organization dedicated to the promotion of Phoenix through sports. In addition, he is past chairman of Arizona State University's Dean's Council of 100, he is on the Honor Board for Junior Achievement of Central Arizona, and he is chairman of the board for the Christian Businessmen's Club. Colangelo is also a director and principal partner of Stratford American Corporation, a real estate development company. He previously served as president of Valley Big Brothers and was on the board of directors of Qwest.

Most recently, Colangelo authored a book, titled "How You Play the Game," giving insight into the world of the business of sports. Proceeds of the book sales go to YoungLife of Arizona, Phoenix Suns Charities and Arizona Diamondbacks Charities.

The Beginning

An outstanding athlete, Colangelo prepped at Bloom Township High in Chicago Heights, IL, where he was an All-State basketball honoree as a senior. He led his teams to a 49-8 mark with two appearances in the Illinois State Championship Tournament. A left-hander, Colangelo was also the top pitcher on the baseball team that featured former Yankee hurler Jim Bouton. Upon graduation he had 66 scholarship offers for college basketball and seven for professional baseball contracts.

He enrolled at the University of Kansas, but transferred after his prospective teammate, Wilt Chamberlain, left the Jayhawks for a pro contract. Colangelo then attended the University of Illinois, where he earned All-Big Ten honors, averaging 15 points per game. He captained the Illini team as a senior and was later inducted into the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame. He also played two years of baseball at Illinois.

Born November 20, 1939, Colangelo grew up in the "Hungry Hill" neighborhood of Chicago Heights. His ties to "The Heights" and Bloom Township are evident in the Jerry Colangelo Gymnasium, which was dedicated in his honor November 10, 1996, and in Colangelo Way, a street named after him. Currently under construction in Chicago is the Colangelo Center, which will house the Italian-American Hall of Fame.

He and wife Joan have four children: Kathy Holcombe, Kristen Brubaker, Bryan, and Mandie Okyere, and six granddaughters and four grandsons.

Bryan Colangelo

Phoenix Mercury President

Under the direction of Bryan Colangelo, the Phoenix Mercury has emerged as one of the premier franchises in the WNBA. Colangelo was instrumental in acquiring women's basketball legend Cheryl Miller as the first head coach and general manager of the Mercury. Most recently he helped bring the 2000 WNBA All-Star Game to Phoenix.

As one of the WNBA's original eight franchises, the Phoenix Mercury has experienced tremendous success with Colangelo. During the league's inaugural season in 1997, the Mercury led the WNBA in attendance. The team has remained in the top five in the league every year since. The Mercury has advanced to the playoffs three times in its four-year existence, including a trip to the 1998 WNBA Finals where they fell just short to the eventual champion Houston Comets.

Colangelo has been equally successful in his career with the NBA's Phoenix Suns. He was promoted to team president on October 4, 1999, and is the youngest team president in the NBA. In his 13th season with the Suns and sixth as general manager, Colangelo oversees all business and basketball operations of the NBA club and also serves as an alternate governor on the NBA's Board of Governors.

His accomplishments and influence in sports and business have been recently recognized nationally as he was named to the 2000 "40 under 40" group by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal. Locally, he was selected the top business leader under 40 by the Phoenix Business Journal in 1999.

Since Bryan Colangelo took over as General Manager, the Phoenix Suns have been one of the most active teams in the NBA on the free agent and trade markets. During that stretch, the Suns have increased their run of playoff berths to 12-straight seasons ó the fourth-longest active streak in the NBA.

Colangelo, who at 36 is the second-youngest general manager in the NBA (Philadelphia's Billy King is 34), has brought some of the league's more notable players to the Suns: All-NBA/All-Stars Jason Kidd, Clifford Robinson, Antonio McDyess, Tom Gugliotta and Anfernee "Penny" Hardaway, and, most recently, Chris Dudley and three-time NBA champion Mario Elie.

Colangelo previously held the positions of scout, assistant director of player personnel, and vice president/assistant general manager, where he was directly involved in all aspects of player personnel, including evaluation, draft selection and transactions. He has also served as tournament director for the NIKE Desert Classic, an annual college All-Star basketball tournament held during April / May in Phoenix.

In addition to his responsibilities with the Mercury and the Suns, Colangelo serves as president of Phoenix Arena Sports (PAS), the owning entity of the Arizona Rattlers (Arena Football League) and the operating entity of the Mercury (WNBA). He oversees the business administration, team operations and marketing sales of the Rattlers, Mercury and other exhibition events including tennis, hockey, boxing and volleyball. Highlights of his involvement with PAS include the 1997 and 1994 (the state of Arizona's first) World Championship campaigns of the Rattlers. He was also selected as the AFL's 1993 Executive of the Year. The Rattlers have won the AFL Commissioner's Award as the top franchise on and off the field for an unprecedented five-straight years.

A 1983 graduate of Central High School in Phoenix, Colangelo remains an active community leader. He serves on the board of directors of the Arizona Sports Council (Grand Canyon State Games), Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Phoenix, Phoenix Suns Charities, Phoenix Art Museum and recently completed a post on the board of directors of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, and has served as co-chair of the Black Family and Child Services Dinner. A member of the executive committee of the Greater Phoenix Economic Council, he was presented the 1997 Unsung Hero Award from the Downtown Phoenix Partnership. He was recently appointed by Governor Jane Hull to serve on the recently-formed Education 2000 Committee.

A 1987 graduate of Cornell University with a bachelor's of science degree in business management and applied economics, Colangelo and his wife Barbara have one son, Mattia (3) and a 1-year-old daughter, Sofia.

Seth Sulka

Phoenix Mercury Vice President/ General Manager

Seth Sulka has been the Phoenix Mercury's Vice President of Operations since the team's inception in 1996, and in February 2001, he also took on the role of the team's General Manager. He is responsible for the day-to-day business operations of the Mercury, which include the marketing, ticketing, advertising and promotion of the team. Sulka also oversees all basketball operations completing such functions as scheduling, conducting team drafts and player trades and organizing training camp. Sulka helped the Mercury complete the first-ever WNBA trade when they acquired Mikiko Hagiwara in the league's inaugural season, and, in January 2001, in perhaps his most significant Mercury transaction, he named four-time WNBA champion Cynthia Cooper as the team's second head coach.

Sulka is also in his fifth year as the Vice President of Operations for Phoenix Arena Sports, the Phoenix Suns entity which owns and operates the Mercury as well as the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena Football League.

Sulka joined the Phoenix Suns organization in 1987 as an intern in media relations. In 1990, he was named the team's Assistant Director of Media Relations, and in 1991, Sulka was named the first Director of Media Relations of the Arizona Rattlers, which he took on while continuing his Suns duties. His media relations experience includes the 1993 NBA Finals and the 1995 NBA All-Star Game.

In addition, Sulka served as Media Director for the Phoenix Smash (World Team Tennis), which included Hall of Famer Jimmy Connors, and he has handled media relations for other Phoenix Arena Sports events including boxing, soccer (Arizona Sandsharks) and the NHL Desert Series from 1992 through 1995. Several events during that span included tennis exhibitions with Andre Agassi, Pete Sampras and John McEnroe. Sulka also oversees the NIKE Desert Classic Tournament hosted by the Phoenix Suns. The tournament, which features the top 40 male college seniors, is held for one week every April/May.

In addition to Sulka's media relations duties, he has served in various capacities for the Suns including Director of Game Operations and Business Operations Assistant.

A native of Phoenix, Sulka graduated from Arizona State University with a degree in journalism/public relations. He spends most of his time away from work reading classic literature and mountain biking. He and his wife Carla are the parents of twin daughters, Emily and Madeline (5).

Cynthia Cooper

Head Coach

Two-time WNBA MVP Cynthia Cooper is making her coaching debut this season. She was named the second-ever Phoenix Mercury head coach on Jan. 8, after leading the Houston Comets to all four Championships in WNBA history. The 37-year-old was the MVP of the championship series all four years, and she joined the Mercury after she retired from playing following the 2000 season.

Cooper, a former guard, earned All-WNBA First Team honors in each of her four seasons in the WNBA, and she was selected to the WNBA All-Star Team each year the game was played. Cooper is the WNBA's all-time leading scorer, and the Comet's all-time leader in points scored, scoring average, free throw percentage, assists and minutes played. She was named the WNBA Player of the Week six times in four seasons, and she was the first player to earn the award for two consecutive weeks.

Cooper led the WNBA in scoring from 1997-99, and she was the first player in WNBA history to reach the 300, 400, 500, 1000, 2000 and 2500-point plateaus. Cooper started every game she played and missed only two games in her WNBA career. She was originally signed by the WNBA and assigned to Houston on Jan. 22, 1997.

Prior to joining the WNBA in its first year of existence, Cooper played overseas from 1986-1997. She played in Spain and Italy and was the leading scorer eight times in 11 seasons. Cooper was also a member of the 1992 bronze-medal-winning U.S. Olympic Team and the 1988 gold-medal-winning Olympic team.

In college, she won two NCAA Championships (1983, 1984) with the University of Southern California. She led the Trojans to three Final Four appearances in four years, and currently ranks eighth on USC's all-time scoring list, fifth in assists and third in steals.

In addition to her basketball talents, Cooper has written an autobiography titled "She Got Game," and she has published a book project with elementary school children titled "Modern Day Fairy Tales." In the summer of 2001, Cooper is set to release "Reflections," a collection of her poems. She signed a recording contract with Virgin Records in 1999, and she is the Chief Executive Officer of Cooper • Metoyer Communications (CMC), a company she co-founded with her best friend and business partner Lavaille Metoyer.

Cooper, who went to Locke High School in Los Angeles, currently resides in Sugarland, Texas with her son Tyquon and four nieces and nephews. On April 28 of this year, Cooper was married in Houston. In honor of her late mother who raised eight children, Cooper founded the Mary Cobbs "Building Dream" Foundation which helps raise funds for breast cancer research in partnership with General Motors' Concept: Cure. Cooper also has her own shoe with NIKE called the Air C14 and she speaks fluent Italian.

Carrie Graf

Assistant Coach

Carrie Graf returns to the Mercury for her third season as an assistant coach. She spent the 1998 and '99 seasons in Phoenix, and due to her commitment to the Australian National Team, she spent her 2000 season in Australia preparing for the Olympics. She has been an assistant coach with the Opals for the past six years, including 1996 when the team won a bronze medal at the Atlanta Olympics.

Graf is currently in her second season as the head coach of the Canberra Capitals of Australia's WNBL (Women's National Basketball League). After leading her team to the 2000 WNBL Championship title, Graf was named the Junior Development Officer for Basketball Canberra, a role she has taken on in addition to coaching.

Graf, an Australia native, received the High Performance Coach Award in 1997 and the Young Coach of the Year Award in 1996, both from the Australian Coaching Council. She was also named the Young Coach of the Year in 1993.

From 1993-96 Graf was the head coach of the WNBL's Sydney Flames, and she was an assistant coach for the Melbourne Tigers of the WNBL in 1992. She completed her diploma of coaching from the Australian Coaching Council in 1991.

Graf not only brings coaching experience to the Mercury, but she also brings a wealth of playing experience. She played professionally from 1983-1990, starting with the Nunawading Spectres of the WNBL (1983-1988). She earned Rookie of the Year honors in the Australian Club Championships in 1983, and in 1984, she was selected to play for the All-Australian under-18 team.

Graf has a degree in physical education from RMIT in Melbourne. She enjoys the outdoors and fine dining, and she lives in Sydney during the off-season.

Eric Cooper

Assistant Coach

Eric Cooper, the second-half of the Mercury's Cooper Coaching-Combo, joins the Phoenix Mercury coaching ranks in 2001 to assist first-year head coach, Cynthia Cooper. Eric, no relation to Cynthia, begins his WNBA experience after spending eight years on professional stints with the now-defunct Continental Basketball Association, in Europe and with Magic Johnson's All-Stars.

Prior to his professional career, Cooper played collegiately at Arizona (1985-87) and Texas-San Antonio (1987-89). In his two seasons at Texas-San Antonio, Cooper recorded 883 points and grabbed 161 rebounds, and also played in the 1988 NCAA Tournament. Between his junior and senior seasons, Eric helped Cynthia train for the 1988 Olympics.

Immediately following his college career, Cooper set out for the CBA where he joined the Quad City Thunder. Only a few games into the season, Cooper was sidelined for the remainder of the year with a separated shoulder. After rehabbing, Cooper packed his bags, grabbed his passport and headed to Europe. Cooper's European adventures took him through Holland (1991), Slovania (1992), Germany (1993), Sweden (1994) and the Ukraine (1995). In the midst of all the overseas play, Cooper saw a career-high 67-point game, a game he clearly defines as "unbelievable." After five years overseas, Cooper returned to the States where he traveled with Magic Johnson's All Stars, teaming with former LA Laker legends, Kurt Rambis and Orlando Woolridge.

Two years after retiring as a player, Eric and his wife Eileen established Dream Builders Inc., a non-profit organization dedicated to providing a nurturing environment for young adults and to helping them realize their fullest potential through the development of mind, body and spirit.

Eric, 33, and wife Eileen reside in Chino, Calif. with their two children, Eric Jr. (5) and Ebony (1).

Carolyn Griffiths

Head Athletic Trainer

Carolyn Griffiths returns for her fifth season with the Mercury as the team's head athletic trainer. She acts as a medical liaison with the team's medical and organizational staff focusing on injury prevention and management. Griffiths also assists the team with travel administration. A 1996 graduate of Grand Canyon University in Phoenix, Griffiths received her bachelor's degree in corporate fitness and wellness, with an emphasis in athletic training.

Before joining the Mercury in 1997, Griffiths was the head athletic trainer at Centennial High School in Phoenix. She currently works as head athletic trainer at Xavier College Preparatory during the off-season.

Griffiths, who is a native of Arizona, is also an avid runner. Most recently, she competed in a marathon in Vancouver, British Columbia and a triathlon in Mexico. In addition to running, she also enjoys basketball and baseball.

Robin Pound

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Robin Pound enters his fifth season with the Mercury and continues his work of creating and administering strength, conditioning and rehabilitation programs. Pound has also worked for nine seasons with the Phoenix Suns as the team's strength and conditioning coach. Much of his work is done in the state-of-the-art workout facility located at America West Arena.

Before joining the Suns organization, Pound served as head strength and conditioning coach at California-Berkeley (1987-91). He first joined the Golden Bears in 1985 as an assistant strength coach after serving in the same position at the University of Oregon from 1978-84.

A highly regarded speaker, Pound has published several articles and has been a member of various advisory boards in his field. A founding member and president of the National Basketball Conditioning Coaches Association, Pound authored portions of and served as associate coordinator/editor for both Condition the NBA Way and NBA Power Conditioning.

He received a bachelor's of science degree in physical education in 1982 and a master's in exercise physiology and anatomy from Oregon in 1984.

Tom Leander

Play-by-Play Announcer, Mercury TV

Tom Leander returns for his third season as the Mercury play-by-play announcer. Leander has spent the last eight years with the Phoenix Suns broadcasting team. In addition to hosting studio game shows for the Suns, he has also done play-by-play broadcasting for the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena Football League.

Leander is a 1986 graduate of Loyola-Marymount University where he served as play-by-play announcer for the men's basketball team. Leander also spent eight years as a television sportscaster in Monterey, California as well as Tucson, Arizona.

Leander, who graduated from Brophy Prep in Phoenix, is a former Suns ball boy. Born in Chicago, Leander and his family relocated to the Valley of the Sun when he was seven years old.

He now lives in Phoenix with his wife Sandy and their three children: Lauren (8), Keaton (6), and Bryson (2).

Kevin Ray

Play-by-Play Announcer, Mercury Radio

Entering his fourth season as the Mercury's play-by-play announcer on KMVP, Kevin Ray has been working in broadcasting for over 10 years. For the past eight years, Ray has worked for KTAR/KMVP Radio. With an impressive resume of broadcasting experience, Ray has done play-by-play for Arizona State women's basketball and men's baseball, as well as pre- and post-game shows for the Phoenix Suns. In addition he has done play-by-play for the Fiesta Bowl for the past two years.

Ray graduated in Communications/Broadcasting from Pittsburgh State (Kansas) in 1987. Before moving to Phoenix, Ray worked in Flagstaff, AZ (KVNA) for almost two years. While in Flagstaff, he met his wife Marci. They have a daughter, Devon (4) and a one-year-old son Zachary.

Ray works closely with the Aid to the Adoption of Special Kids (AASK). He also enjoys working out and chasing his two children. He lists "the sense of real passion and desire" as things he most enjoys about the WNBA. He describes the WNBA as a "great brand of hoops where you find true professionalism with a grass roots feel."

Jennifer Adams

Color Commentator, Mercury Radio

Jennifer Adams, a former All-American and All-Pac-10 player at Washington State, begins her third season as the Mercury's radio color commentator. Before joining the Mercury, Adams spent two seasons doing color for Fox Sports Arizona covering Arizona State University Women's Basketball. She also has experience doing halftime shows for the Phoenix Suns.

After graduating with a Communications degree from Washington State, Adams spent two years playing in the American Basketball League (ABL) in San Jose and Long Beach. During her four years at Washington State, Adams broke several school records and led the Pac-10 in scoring her senior year (23.9 ppg). She was also named Honorable Mention All-American and finished ninth in the nation in scoring.

Adams is married to Kearney Adams Jr. and has a two-year-old son, Kearney Adams III.

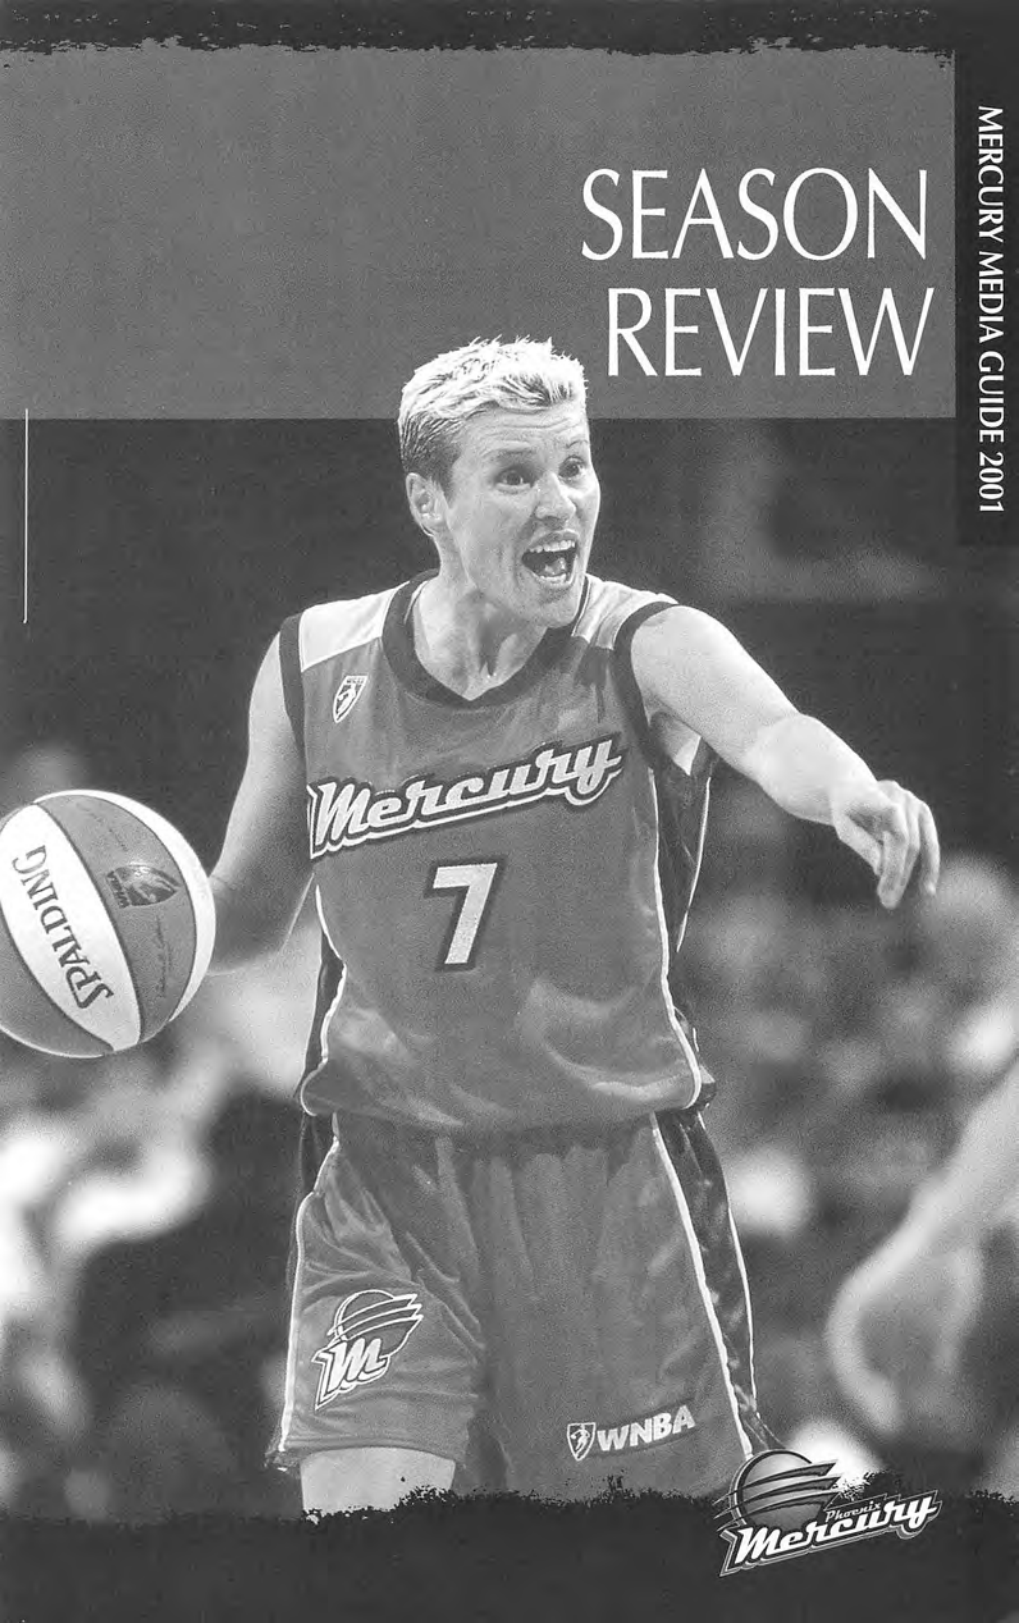
SEASON REVIEW

MERCURY MEDIA GUIDE 2001



2000 Season Team Notes

Phoenix hosted the second annual WNBA All-Star Game on July 17, and Brandy Reed represented the Mercury on the Western Conference team that bested the East, 73-61.

The Mercury finished the season with a franchise-best 20-12 record and their third playoff berth in four seasons.

At the start of the season, the Mercury put together a franchise-record four-game road winning streak (6/13-6/24), and the team continued its winning ways by tying a franchise record with four consecutive overall wins from July 7-13. In August, the Mercury shot a scorching WNBA-record 63.6 percent from the field vs. the Seattle Storm.

Phoenix also secured a mention in the record books by holding the Miami Sol to a 2000 WNBA season-low and Mercury franchise-low 44 points, while limiting the Sol to a franchise-low 22.6 percent from the field.

Despite the injuries the team faced, many Mercury players excelled individually as well. Reed finished the season ranked third in the league and first on the team in scoring (19.0 ppg), while Jennifer Gillom (12.5 ppg) had the second-best scoring average for Phoenix. Reed (5.8 rpg) and Michelle Griffiths (4.0 rpg) were the top Mercury rebounders. The Mercury accomplished these milestones in spite of the numerous injuries to key players. Cleary, Maria Stepanova and Michele Timms all suffered season-ending knee injuries, while Gillom and Griffiths each missed time due to sprained ankles. To compensate for these injuries, Phoenix signed guards Dena Head and Nicole Kubik mid-season.

The 2000 season was one which saw Reed return to Phoenix through a trade after spending one season in Minnesota, and finish the year ranked third in the WNBA in free throw percentage, third in scoring, fifth in steals and tied for 15th in rebounding. Also, Michelle Cleary set a new franchise record for individual assists in a game with 12 assists on 7/19 vs. Utah, and Tonya Edwards was nominated for the second annual American Express Small Business Services WNBA Entrepreneurial Award. Edwards has a snack vending business out of Columbus, Ohio. In addition, Gillom set a new career high and also tied the Mercury's all-time record for most free throws in a game by shooting 12-12 from the line on 6/14 vs. Portland, and Lisa Harrison finished second in the league with a 1.36 steals-to-turnovers ratio. "The Sparkplug" Bridget Pettis kept her streak alive of consecutive games played with 122 and is currently tied for first among all WNBA players in consecutive games played. Finally, rookie Adrain Williams was one of only two Mercury players (Reed is the other) to record a double-double this season.

Phoenix's impressive finish led the team to the playoffs for the third time in its four-year existence. In the First Round of the 2000 Playoffs, the Mercury faced the league's top team, the Los Angeles Sparks, and fought hard, but lost both games to their Western Conference foe.

The WNBA welcomed four new teams (Indiana Fever, Miami Sol, Portland Fire and Seattle Storm) to the league and the Mercury won all nine games against the 2000 expansion teams.

The 2000 season also featured the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia. Four Mercury players joined their national teams in Sydney for the Games. Trisha Fallon, Michelle Griffiths and Michele Timms suited up for the host Australian National Team, and won a silver medal, and Maria Stepanova played for the Russian National Team.

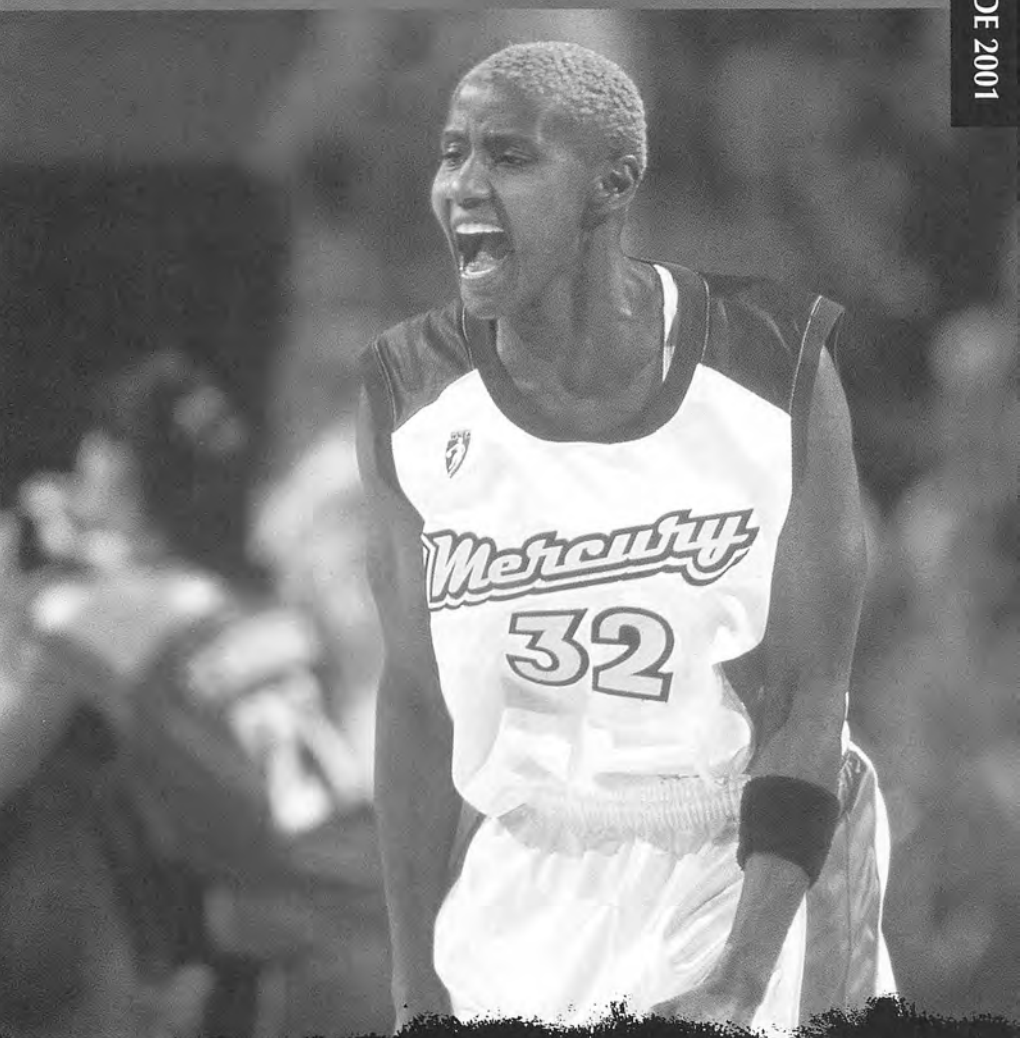
HISTORY



1997 Season

When Phoenix became one of eight cities (Charlotte, Cleveland, Houston, Los Angeles, New York, Sacramento and Utah) awarded a women's professional basketball team, the organization was not aware of the overwhelming amount of support the team would receive. The city of Phoenix welcomed the women's team with open arms and showed their support by making Phoenix one of the top cities in attendance averaging 13,000 plus fans the first season. The spark was lit when one of the greatest pioneers of women's basketball, Cheryl Miller, was named Head Coach/ General Manager of the Phoenix Mercury. With the allocation of Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms, Miller led the Mercury to a winning record of 16-12, the Western Conference title and a playoff birth.

In the elite draft, two more key players were drafted by the Mercury, Bridget Pettis and Nancy Lieberman-Cline who added depth to the Mercury roster. The final roster included 10 active players and two developmental players. The Phoenix Mercury played their inaugural game on June 22, 1997 and defeated the Charlotte Sting 79-59 at America West Arena in front of a crowd of 16,102 fans. Gillom stepped it up and took control of the Mercury leading the team in scoring averaging 15.7 ppg for the season and ended the season being tied for fifth in the league in scoring and being named to the All-WNBA second team. Timms led the team in assists (5.1 apg); while, Foster led the team in rebounding (6.1 rpg). Pettis was second on the team in scoring (12.6 ppg) and ranked 12th in the league.

It didn't take long for Phoenix to make their mark in the WNBA. The first ever WNBA player trade was made on July 31, with the Mercury obtaining Mikiko Hagiwara from Sacramento for future considerations. Phoenix led the league in forcing their opponents to turn the ball over, opponents averaging 21.4 turnovers per game. At the same time, the Mercury had the fewest turnovers in the league, averaging 17.0 turnovers per game. The Mercury also led the league in rebounding percentage with .508, as well as holding their opponents to a scoring low, an average of 65.2 points per game. Phoenix was tied with Los Angeles for the most steals in a single game (20) and was second behind Cleveland, for the most offensive rebounds in a single game (22).

There was one team that the Mercury fought against all season, the Los Angeles Sparks. In three meetings, the Mercury went into overtime twice and had a buzzer beater victory once. Toni Foster hit the only buzzer beater shot of the season on July 13 at Los Angeles in a 57-56 victory. In the final game of the season on August 24, the Mercury had a sellout crowd for an overtime victory of 73-68 against Los Angeles, which advanced Phoenix into the playoffs.

Phoenix made the playoffs and faced the New York Liberty in the semi-final game (single elimination game). Phoenix fell to New York, 59-41, in front of their home crowd of 16,751 at America West Arena. Gillom and reserve Marlies Askamp each posted 9 points and Gillom grabbed 7 rebounds.

1998 Season

The second WNBA season got even hotter for the Phoenix Mercury. With the expansion of the league from 8 to 10 teams (Washington and Detroit) and a longer playoff series, Phoenix took their game all the way to the WNBA finals. Under the guidance of head coach Cheryl Miller, the team posted a 19-11 record and a second trip to the playoffs. The Mercury ended the regular season on a positive note posting a 7-2 record for the month of August, with a 4-0 record at home. Jennifer Gillom shot two buzzer beater shots that not only led Phoenix into overtime victories, but also helped the Mercury advance to the playoffs. In June and July the Mercury posted a winning record of 12-9 with Gillom leading the way in scoring and rebounding. She was also named player of the week for the week of July 12th.

The 1998 Phoenix squad featured seven international players. The Mercury drafted the talented 6'8î, 19 year old Russian, Maria Stepanova, in the first round (8th pick) of the 1998 draft. Three players were from Australia (Michelle Griffiths, Kristi Harrower, Michele Timms), one from Slovakia (Andrea Kuklova), Germany (Marlies Askamp) and Japan (Mikiko Hagiwara). Hagiwara, Kuklova and Stepanova all had traveling interpreters during the season.

Gillom become the second player in WNBA history (behind Cynthia Cooper) to surpass the 1,000 point mark in her career and ended the season with 1,064 points. She finished the season ranked second in the league in scoring, fifth in rebounding, sixth in three-point field goal percentage and tenth in steals. Gillom was named to the All-WNBA first team and led the team in scoring for the second straight season, averaging 20.8 ppg.

Phoenix faced the Cleveland Rockers in the first round of the WNBA playoffs. The Mercury finished the semi-final series with a 2-1 record. The Mercury defeated the Rockers in the game one of the semi-finals in front of their home crowd (78-68). Phoenix had a heart breaking loss in game two in Cleveland by one point (67-66). In game three, Bridget Pettis led all scorers recording 27 points and 11 rebounds and helped secure the Mercury win (71-60). Gillom led the series against Cleveland averaging 19.7 ppg and 7.3 rpg. The Mercury advanced to the WNBA Finals where they faced the defending World Champion Houston Comets. The Mercury were victorious in game one at America West Arena (54-51). Michele Timms turned up the heat in game two of the Finals at Houston and led the team with 21 points (7-18 FG, 2-8 3-pt FG, 5-5 FT). The two teams went into overtime but the Comets came away with the win (74-69). The Comets won game three (80-71) and walked away with the WNBA Championship title. Gillom led the team in scoring and rebounding in the playoffs, posting an average of 17.0 ppg and 7.8 rpg.

The Mercury had arguably the best bench around the league. Phoenix was 11-2 when their bench scored 20+ points in a game. The bench posted an all-time high 47 points in an 88-59 victory vs. Washington on 8/4. Marlies Askamp led the bench during the season in scoring and rebounding, averaging 5.3 ppg and 3.3 rpg.

The Mercury fans filled the stands and kept Phoenix ranked in the top three in the league for attendance, averaging 13,765.

1999 Season

Whitney Houston sang the national anthem as all the stars came out in New York for the Inaugural WNBA All-Star game at Madison Square Garden. Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms were selected to play in the inaugural WNBA All-Star game on the Western Conference team on July 14 in New York. With Van Chancellor coaching the Western Conference team, the West defeated the Eastern Conference team which was coached by Linda Hill-MacDonald, 79-61.

With an overall record of 15-17 and Cheryl Miller re-signing a multi-year contract, the Mercury heated things up in the second half of the season. If the season had been decided on second half performance alone, Phoenix would have faired much better than their fourth place Western Conference finish. Based on the last 18 games of the season, the Mercury would have ended the season with an 11-7 record placing themselves in second place in the Western Conference. In the last 18 games the Mercury averaged 68.1 ppg, 39.6 rpg, 16.4 apg and 7.7 spg while in the first half of the season they averaged 67.6 ppg, 32.2 rpg, 15.3 apg and 6.5 spg and a record of 4-10. Phoenix also ended the season holding three WNBA season records. They had the most field goal attempts (79), the most three-point field goal attempts (29) and had the fewest free throw attempts (4). The Mercury won 11 consecutive home games, from 7/17 through 8/17, which set a new franchise record and ranked Phoenix second in the WNBA record books (behind the Houston Comets) for the most consecutive home games won.

Gillom became one of two players in the league to record 1,500 career points (behind Cynthia Cooper) and led the team in scoring for the third straight season (15.2 ppg). Gillom also scored in double figures 82 out of 90 regular season games in the last three seasons. She also recorded her 550th career rebound vs. Utah on 8/20. Gillom became the only Mercury player to have started and played in every game (90 games) in the last three years. Timms was a close second, having not played in three games and not started in one game.

Maria Stepanova stepped it up off the bench and recorded career-high numbers. Her 62 total blocks landed her ranked second in league for blocks per game (1.94 bpg). She had a streak of at least one blocked shot (41 total blocks) in 18 straight games from July 17, 1999 through August 20, 1999. Her career-high six blocks on 6/26 at Detroit was a Mercury franchise record for the most blocks in a single game. Stepanova recorded four consecutive double-doubles and ended the season with six double-doubles.

With the Mercury bench having so much depth, they outscored their opponents bench 19 out of 32 times and 12 out of 16 times at home. Maria Stepanova led the bench in scoring (7.8 ppg) and rebounding (5.1 rpg).

Once the American Basketball League (ABL) closed its doors, many of those talented players joined the WNBA and heated up the competition. With the competition fierce, America West Arena had no problem packing the house and maintaining Phoenix's top three ranking in the league for attendance.

1997 Playoffs

Phoenix/New York 1997 Semi-finals

In the inaugural WNBA season the Phoenix Mercury made it all the way to the WNBA playoffs. With eight teams in the league and four in each conference, only four teams would advance to the playoffs. The East was made up of Charlotte, Cleveland, New York and Houston, while the West was made up of Phoenix, Los Angeles, Sacramento and Utah. The playoff series included two rounds of single elimination games. Phoenix faced New York in their first playoff appearance in front of a sold out crowd at America West Arena on 8/28. The closest the Mercury came to the lead was in the first half when they were down by one point (8-7). Phoenix fought a losing battle as they went on a 6-0 run late in the second half, but it wasn't enough momentum to keep the Mercury alive. Phoenix only came within five points the second half as New York defeated Phoenix 59-41. Phoenix was led by the efforts of Jennifer Gillom scoring nine points and grabbing seven rebounds while Marlies Askamp added nine points. New York went on to meet Houston in the WNBA Finals. The Comets defeated the Liberty, 65-51, at the Compaq Center on 8/30.

1998 Playoffs

Phoenix/Cleveland 1998 Semi-finals

The WNBA playoffs changed for the better in 1998. The same rules applied from the 1997 season, with four teams with the best records advancing, but the series changed from two rounds of single elimination games to two rounds of the best of three series. For the second year, Phoenix made it into the post season. In front of their home crowd, the Mercury posted a 78-68 victory over the Rockers in Game One on 8/22. Phoenix dominated the second half, with Jennifer Gillom posting 13 points. Phoenix then traveled to Cleveland on 8/24 for Game Two of the series. The Mercury came out strong in the first half but the Rockers slowly took the lead. Phoenix had a one-point advantage and a minute left to play when Merlakia Jones of Cleveland hit a lay-up for 67-66 win. Gillom hit 19 of her 27 points in the second half but it was not enough to give the Mercury the victory. The series was tied at one game a piece and the Mercury needed a win to advance to the WNBA Finals. Game Three was a battle at Cleveland on 8/25. The first half was a war with neither team being ahead by more than seven points at a time. The high energy from Bridget Pettis in the first half carried over into the second half as the Mercury dominated and won, 71-60. Pettis ended the game with 27 points, 14 points in the first half, and 11 rebounds, helping Phoenix get to the WNBA Finals. Gillom led the Mercury in the Cleveland series posting 19.7 ppg and 7.3 rpg in three games. The Mercury won the semi-final series, 2-1 and advanced themselves to the WNBA Finals, where they would face their season rivals, the Houston Comets.

1998 Playoffs

Phoenix/Houston 1998 WNBA Finals

Head Coach Cheryl Miller led her team to the WNBA Finals where they met Houston in a best of three game series. In Game One of the Finals, in front of a packed America West Arena, Phoenix defeated Houston 54-51 on 8/27. With two minutes left to play, a lay-up by Jennifer Gillom and a free throw by Michelle Griffiths, secured the Mercury win. The Mercury then traveled to Houston for what would be a battle till the end. Phoenix dominated Game Two on 8/29, until Houston went on an 11-0 run with two minutes left to play. Michele Timms was fired up as she led the Mercury with 21 points, 12 of which came in the first half. Then with under a minute left to play, Cynthia Cooper kept Houston alive with a jump shot, which sent the game into overtime (66-66). The Mercury fought to stay on top but Gillom's three points were the only numbers they posted in overtime. The Mercury fell 74-69 in overtime. With the series tied at one a piece, Phoenix had to defeat Houston at a sold out Compaq Center on 9/1 to capture the WNBA title. The battle continued in Game Three as Phoenix and Houston traded baskets for the first five minutes but the Mercury ended the first half down by six. Phoenix jumped out in the second half with an 11-2 run to take over the lead but could not hold on till the end, losing 80-71. Gillom led the Mercury in the Finals, scoring 14.3 ppg and rebounding 7.7 rpg in three games.

Phoenix/Los Angeles 2000 First Round

Phoenix made it to the post-season for the third time in four years and for the first time since the 1998 season. With the addition of four expansion teams in 2000, the playoffs featured the top four teams in each conference and three rounds of best-of-three game series. Phoenix entered the First Round as the fourth seed in the Western Conference and faced the top team in the league, the Los Angeles Sparks. The Sparks dominated the first game, never trailing, and building its biggest lead to 23 en route to an 86-71 victory at America West Arena. Lisa Leslie led L.A. with 20 points and 11 rebounds as the Sparks shot .515 from the field. Brandy Reed paced Phoenix with 17 points and was one of five Mercury players who scored in double figures. In the second game, the Sparks came out even stronger, shooting .557 from the field, including .640 in the second half, as they topped the Mercury 101-76 in Los Angeles. Phoenix led 10-8 at the 16:23 mark in the first half, but L.A. took the lead and never relinquished it as they swept the Mercury and advanced to the Western Conference Semi-Finals. Leslie again led the Sparks with 29 points, on 12-of-17 shooting, and 8 rebounds, and Mwadi Mabika added 15 points and 8 boards.

WNBA Initiatives

BE ACTIVE INITIATIVES

The WNBA and NIKE have joined together to promote health and fitness through WNBA Be Active Presented by NIKE. Be Active is a 16-city grassroots initiative that encourages young people and women to live the program's core message: "Play Fit, Stay Fit". The 2001 program's national spokespeople — Team Be Active — are Wendy Palmer (Detroit Shock), Katie Smith (Minnesota Lynx), Tina Thompson (Houston Comets) and Natalie Williams (Utah Starzz). Off-season clinics led by a member of Team Be Active teach boys and girls, ages 11-14, the importance of physical fitness in three key areas: endurance, strength and flexibility. National Be Active Week tips off the program's activities during the season, and WNBA teams continue to promote the Be Active message through various in-season activities including youth fitness clinics and an in-arena Be Active Night featuring on-court promotions and a PSA on the importance of staying physically fit. Expanding the program to reach women, teams also conduct yearly fitness "boot camps" run by players, coaches and trainers. The boot camps mimic a WNBA player's workout and emphasize cardiovascular activities and weight training. Nationally, the Be Active program is supported by physical fitness content on WNBA.com, an advertorial on the importance of physical fitness in Sports Illustrated for Women, and an annual court refurbishment project in the WNBA All-Star city. In conjunction with Scholastic, Inc., the WNBA and NIKE have also developed an in-school poster and teaching guide featuring Be Active content and curriculum that is distributed to 1 million school children.

BREAST HEALTH INITIATIVE

Sears WNBA Breast Health Awareness is a partnership between the National Alliance of Breast Cancer Organizations (NABCO), Sears and the WNBA. The initiative is designed to increase public awareness about the importance of early detection of breast cancer and to raise funds to inform and educate women all over the country. Sears, through the WNBA program, will donate $1 million to NABCO. The national tip-off for the 2001 program, featuring national spokesperson Lisa Leslie, was held on April 24 in New York City. Unveiled at the tip-off was a new pink and white signature ball specially created by the WNBA to symbolize the fight against breast cancer. The ball is the centerpiece of this year's activities, which include a celebrity photo campaign with the ball, a celebrity "chain ball" (where one celebrity signs the ball and passes it on to another celebrity), and special celebrity-designed balls. The chain ball and celebrity-designed balls will be offered to the public through the WNBA's All-Star Online Auction. The auction, which runs from July 5 - July 20, will also include team autographed merchandise, season tickets, player meet and greets and much more. Log onto WNBA.com to participate in the auction and help the cause. Locally, the program is supported through multiple awareness nights in all 16 WNBA arenas and the designation of a local "Breast Health Hero." Breast health information is distributed to attendees during awareness nights, and a breast health awareness PSA airs on nationally televised games and in-arena. Sears donates $.50 to NABCO for every fan that attends a game on Breast Health Awareness night and $5,000 to a local organization for each local hero. The Sears WNBA Breast Health Awareness 2001 program concludes in October, Breast Cancer Awareness Month. A final donation to NABCO will be made at that time.

Team Programs

PHOENIX MERCURY CHARITIES

Phoenix Mercury Charities is the team's foundation, which supports local non-profit organizations (primarily in the areas of youth sports, women's sports and women's health). Phoenix Mercury Charities is a division of Phoenix Suns Charities, which was founded in 1987 to assist the needs of children. Since Phoenix Mercury Charities is managed by a volunteer board of directors, and administrative costs are underwritten by the team, expenses are very low and donations are maximized. The Phoenix Mercury is proud to join the distinguished history of community service begun by its parent company, the Phoenix Suns. Together with our fans, the Phoenix Mercury is making our community a better place. Funds for Phoenix Mercury Charities are raised through sponsor and fan donations, 50/50 raffles held at every home game, silent auctions and team special events. Grants are primarily distributed during the WNBA season. Past recipients include: Catholic Social Services, Fresh Start Women's Foundation, Multiple Sclerosis Society (Women and MS program), Salvation Army Youth Center (for basketball court renovations), Project AIDS Arizona, Camp Hakuna Matata, Muscular Dystrophy Association, YWCA and One Bed, One Life (Anti-Domestic Violence campaign).

PLAN-IT LEAGUE

For the fifth year, in partnership with the City of Phoenix and NIKE, high school aged girls are hired by the City of Phoenix as interns who serve as coaches and officials for an all-girls basketball league. In addition to learning how to coach and officiate, interns are taught life skills such as, time management, conflict resolution and leadership development. Throughout the season, Mercury players serve as honorary coaches and conduct clinics, and all teams have the opportunity to play at America West Arena at least once during the summer. Guest speakers such as ESPN broadcaster Robin Roberts and WNBA official Lisa Mattingly help the girls explore off-court careers in sports. Each year the Mercury also present one PLAN-IT League intern with a scholarship funded through Phoenix Mercury Charities. The program certainly lives up to its theme: "A basketball league and a plan to succeed."

MIGHTY MERCURY KID'S CLUB

Kids of all ages enjoy the Mercury, but kids between the ages of 6-17 are able to enhance their Mercury experience even more by joining the Mercury Kid's Club. This isn't your average fan club; members receive a variety of gifts and services including t-shirts, a birthday card, reserved seating at open practices, special Hip Hop Squad and basketball clinics, autograph opportunities, discounts at the Team Shops and other special offers throughout the year. Applications are available by calling the Phoenix Mercury offices at 602-514-8333.

HOOPS FOR HEARTS

Getting kids to put their heads into a fundraising program may seem like a challenge, but the Phoenix Mercury's partnership with the American Heart Association "Hoops for Hearts" program allows students to display their basketball skills, win prizes for their schools all while learning about the functions of the human heart. When the Mercury began promoting Hoops for Hearts and sending players to school appearances, the program experienced a 229 percent increase in pledges. All proceeds go toward the American Heart Association's programs, which encourage kids to be heart-healthy.

MERCURY MADNESS

Mercury Madness sweeps the streets of downtown Phoenix every off-season. This free fan festival offers basketball and Hip Hop Squad clinics for fans to participate in throughout the day. Fans can also enjoy raffles, interactive games, music, food and autograph signings by Mercury players and coaches. The competition grows even fiercer with the women's 3-on-3 tournament, which goes on during Mercury Madness. This event has no problem filling the streets of downtown every year because the fans are eager to join in the day-long festivities. During the past four years Phoenix has averaged 5,000-plus fans at this wild event.

Team Programs

TEEN SUMMER READING PROGRAM

The Phoenix Mercury has partnered with the City of Phoenix Parks, Recreation and Library Department to set up a program providing incentives for youth ages 11-19 who read. All 13 City of Phoenix library agencies participate in this reading program, which gives the children access to nearly 7,000 books. The children who participate in this program have the chance to win tickets to Mercury games, and they also have the opportunity to be an honorary ball kid for a game. In addition, various Mercury players have gotten involved by reading stories to the younger children.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Throughout the year, the Phoenix Mercury host several special events. The Mercury tip-off the season each year with a luncheon. The luncheon brings together fans and the entire Mercury team for an afternoon of food, fun and excitement. The Mercury also offer a fitness program called "Get Fit with the Mercury." It is a 12-week program geared toward women 18 years of age and over, which promotes fitness and health. The participants go on hikes, workout at the Phoenix Suns Athletic Club, participate in clinics hosted by Mercury players and attend lectures about fitness, nutrition, heart disease and injury prevention. For the second consecutive season, the Mercury teamed up with the LPGA to host the Standard Register PING LPGA Putting Tournament. Mercury players and head coach Cynthia Cooper competed with golf pros and Mercury staff members to benefit the Silver Belles, a girls' golf tournament. In addition, the Mercury continue to host numerous camps and clinics for kids of all ages. During this past off-season, the Mercury hosted the first-ever Phoenix Mercury Fantasy Camp, a two-day, player-led camp that gave women ages 25-55 the opportunity to train with the Mercury. The Mercury players and coaching staff continue to share their passion for basketball with the community.

Mercury Hip Hop Squad

The Phoenix Mercury Hip Hop Squad is entering their fifth season as the Mercury's dance and entertainment squad. With 10 members returning from last year's squad, the 2001 Hip Hop Squad is comprised of 4 males and 11 females.

The Hip Hop Squad attends all home games and makes numerous community appearances throughout the Valley during the season. In addition, the Squad stays active in the community during the off-season by making appearances at local school and charity events. During the 2000 off-season, the Mercury Hip Hop Squad was chosen to represent the league in the Regal by Buick WNBA On Tour, a four-city exhibition schedule featuring the league's top players.

Maggie Garcia has been the coach and coordinator of the of the Squad since their debut during the inaugural year in 1997.

Squad members (not in order): Babie, B-Down, Bri, Chocolate, Daffie, Enr-G, Gadget, Gizmo, KoKo, MJ, Miz V, RoRo, Saza, Shorty and Showtime.

2001 WNBA All-Star Game

This season, the league's stars will be heading south to Orlando for the 2001 WNBA All-Star Game. The Miracle will host the third-ever All-Star extravaganza on July 16.

Last season, Phoenix hosted the 2000 WNBA All-Star Game on July 17 at America West Arena. Brandy Reed represented the Mercury and contributed 3 points and 4 rebounds in 20 minutes as the West defeated the East 73-61.

During the inaugural All-Star Game at Madison Square Garden on July 14, 1999, WNBA All-Stars, as well as the big names from the entertainment industry, descended upon New York in a spectacular show that featured such stars as Whitney Houston, who performed the Star Spangled Banner at the game.

In New York, the Mercury were represented by two All-Stars, Jennifer Gillom and Michele Timms. The Mercury currently has four WNBA All-Stars on their roster. Tonya Edwards, who was obtained from the Minnesota Lynx prior to the 2000 season, joined Gillom and Timms, and represented the Lynx, on the Western Conference team in 1999. In addition to the four players, the Mercury's new head coach, Cynthia Cooper, was a four-time All-Star and played with each of the Mercury All-Stars on the Western Team.

The summer of 2001 promises to get even hotter as the best players in the WNBA and some of the biggest names in the entertainment industry light up Orlando and TD Waterhouse Centre. The game will be broadcast nationally on ESPN.

WNBA All-Star Game Media Information

Credentials: The WNBA will distribute media credential applications for the All-Star Game. For all media who do not cover the WNBA on a regular basis, the application form must be accompanied by a request from the Sports Editor/Director on company letterhead. Credentials are subject to the league's approval.

Hotels: The official media hotel will be the Hard Rock Hotel in Orlando. Room and rate information will be included in the credential application.

Phoenix Suns

Long considered one of the model organizations in professional sports, the Phoenix Suns finished their 33rd season with a playoff berth for the 13th consecutive season, the fourth-longest active run in the NBA.

Highlighted by NBA Finals appearances in 1993 and 1976, the Suns history has been bright under the direction of Jerry Colangelo. Colangelo joined the club at its inception in 1968, moving from the Chicago Bulls to become Phoenix's first general manager at the age of 28. Winner of an unprecedented four NBA Executive of the Year awards, Colangelo has been in the roles of general manager, head coach, president, chairman, CEO and managing general partner.

The Suns have the fourth-best all-time record with a mark of 1472-1201 (.550) since the team was founded in 1968. The Suns trail only the Lakers (.616, 2564-1591), Boston (.602, 2563-1701) and San Antonio (.560, 1137-879)

In 1992-93 a new era began for the Suns as the team left Veterans Memorial Coliseum for America West Arena, a state-of-the-art 19,023 seat arena that is still considered by many the best in the NBA. America West Arena was the first facility to include a practice court within the main arena. That season the team celebrated with the league's best record and advanced to the NBA Finals.

The Phoenix Suns have been able to attract some of the NBA's best over the years with players such as Connie Hawkins, Paul Westphal, Kevin Johnson, Tom Chambers, Charles Barkley, Jason Kidd, Clifford Robinson, Antonio McDyess, Tom Gugliotta and Anfernee "Penny" Hardaway being acquired through trades or free agency.

Off the court the Suns have also excelled with a relationship with the community that is second-to-none. The Suns established Phoenix Suns Charities, which over the last 10 years has donated more than $3 million to benefit children's charities, education and family programs. In addition, Suns players, alumni and front office staff regularly support youth and community relations programs throughout the Valley of the Sun.

Mercury Media Guidelines

CREDENTIALS

Media seating at America West Arena press row is restricted to accredited working media representatives. "Working"media are defined as those who are assigned by their station, publication or media service to file a report on that game. Members of the media with WNBA passes are asked to contact the Mercury communications department to ensure seating and appropriate accommodations when covering a WNBA game inside America West Arena. International requests must be approved by the WNBA public relations office.

Media credentials will be issued by the Mercury communications department and will be made available prior to the start of the WNBA season for those media who regularly cover the Mercury. Passes are non-transferable. For media covering the Mercury on a periodic basis, the club does provide a limited number of single-game credentials on a first-come, first-served basis. Single game media passes will be distributed before the game at the press entrance, located in the northeast corner of America West Arena.

Requests for credentials must be made to the Mercury communications department before noon the day before a weeknight game and by 4:00 p.m. on Friday for a Saturday or Sunday game. If a request is not made, there is no guarantee that a seat will be available.

PRESS ENTRANCE

America West Arena has a designated press entrance located in the northeast corner of the building. All members of the media who are picking up credentials and have been issued a parking pass must enter at the press entrance.

PRESS PARKING

America West Arena has limited press parking on the northeast side of the building, on the corner of Jefferson and 3rd Streets. You must be on the parking list and receive approval from the Mercury communications department to park in the media lot.

PRESS SEATING

The majority of press seating is located courtside between the team benches. Additional press seating can be found in sections 101, 102 and 103. Radio and TV broadcasters will be seated at the courtside level for all games.

TELEVISION CAMERA LOCATIONS

Television camera locations are available in approximately 16 different areas in the building. For more information contact Pat Downs at (602)-379-2075.

INTERVIEWS

PRACTICES

Mercury practices are open to the media for the last 30 minutes. Players can be made available for interviews prior to practice by contacting the Mercury communications department. It is advisable to check with the Mercury communications department for practice times and locations. Media are not allowed on the court during practice, nor are the media allowed to talk with players or coaches during a practice. Team meetings are closed to the media.

In general, Mercury practice sessions will be held at the America West practice facility, located on floor zero of the Arena. Please contact the Mercury communications department for practice times.

GAMES

Mercury players and coaches will arrive at America West Arena no later than one and one-half hours before game time. Media may interview players and coaches according to WNBA guidelines, from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. for a 7:00 p.m. game. The Mercury locker room will be closed for a maximum of 10 minutes following a game. Assistance will be provided in arranging interviews for visiting players and coaches. Please provide specific interview requests to Tami Scott prior to the conclusion of the game.

WORKING AREAS

Phones and working space for the media will be provide in the press room prior to, during and following all Mercury games. Work space is also available during games on press row and electrical outlets are available throughout press row.

Any questions regarding Mercury media credentials and guidelines should be directed to Tami Scott, Director of Communications for the Mercury at (602)-514-8354.

WNBA FAXBACK SYSTEM

Media members who cover the WNBA can access game notes, statistics, rosters, schedules and the most recent box scores for all 16 WNBA teams, as well as league-wide statistics and other general league information, via the WNBA FaxBack system.

The WNBA FaxBack system is a 24-hour fax-on-demand system that is available in three languages and is easily accessible to media members who dial in from the handset of their fax machine. The only charge is the price of the phone call.

For a complete catalog of the documents that are available on the WNBA FaxBack system, please contact Stephanie Clarke with the WNBA public relations department at (212)-407-8028.
